Important Changes for 2025

Tax Form Changes

ITIN

- Any ITIN that wasn't included on a U.S. federal tax return at least once for three consecutive tax years will expire on December 31 of the third consecutive tax year of non-use. In addition, ITIN's assigned before 2013 have expired. These affected taxpayers who expect to file a tax return this year must submit a renewal application. If a renewal application was previously submitted and approved, the applicant does not need to renew again.
- For more information refer to Instructions for Form W-7.

Exemptions/ Dependents

- The 2025 Reconciliation Legislation (H.R. 1), also known as the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), permanently suspended the personal and dependency exemptions. (reduced to zero)
- For 2025, the gross income limitation for a qualifying relative is $5,200.

Standard Deduction

The standard deduction for qualifying residents of India who may choose not to itemize deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040-NR) has increased. The standard deduction amounts for 2025 are:

- $30,000 – Married Filing Jointly or Qualifying Surviving Spouse (increase of $800)
- $15,000 – Single or Married Filing Separately (increase of $400)

Student loan interest deduction begins to phase out for taxpayers with Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) more than $85,000 ($170,000 for joint returns) and is completely phased out for taxpayers with MAGI of $100,000 or more ($200,000 or more for joint returns).

Foreign Earned Income Exclusion

- For 2025, the maximum foreign earned income exclusion is $130,000.

Congress may enact additional legislation that will affect taxpayers after this publication goes to print. Any changes will be reflected in Publication 4491-X, VITA/TCE Training Supplement, available in mid-January on www.irs.gov.

Foreign Student/Scholar VITA-TCE Scope

The scope of the Foreign Student and Scholar Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program is limited to only those areas of tax law specifically addressed in your Link and Learn training. This occurs for many reasons:

1. It is one of our Quality Site Requirements: standards proven to provide the most consistent quality services to the taxpayers.
2. As a volunteer you are only covered for liability while preparing returns within your IRS certification level.
3. Many areas of tax law, specifically treaty issues and nonresident alien issues, can be very time consuming and would prevent the program from assisting other taxpayers with less complex returns.
4. The VITA program should be consistent across the nation and around the globe. Services offered in one site generally should be the same as those offered at other sites which have volunteers of the same certification level.

If your site finds that Foreign Students and/or Scholars have similar Out of Scope issues, you may want to refer them to other free services that can help them or advise them to seek the services of a professional tax preparer.

Tips for Filing

Foreign students and scholars will have one of three statuses for tax purposes:

- Resident: U.S. residents who meet either the green card test or the substantial presence test
- Nonresident: Persons who are not U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents of the United States
- Dual status: Persons who are both nonresidents and resident aliens in the same tax year (Out of Scope)

If you are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test you will generally file using Form 1040-NR.

If you must apply the Substantial Presence Test and are determined to be a Resident Alien, the normal rules and procedures for filing a Form 1040 should be followed.

If you must apply the Substantial Presence Test and are determined to be a Nonresident Alien, you will generally file using Form 1040-NR.

1. Nonresident students, teachers, or trainees who are temporarily in the U.S. in F, J, M, or Q immigration status must file returns if they have income that is subject to withholding, whether tax is withheld or not.
2. Nonresident aliens claiming treaty benefits must also file a return.

Form 8843 - Who Must File

If you are an alien individual (other than a foreign government-related individual), you must file Form 8843 yearly (for yourself and all family members in the U.S. in F-2 or J-2 immigration status) to explain the basis of your claim that you can exclude days of presence in the United States for purposes of the substantial presence test.

Foreign scholars or students (with or without income) excluding days of presence in the United States because you fall into any of the following categories, must file a fully completed Form 8843.

- You were unable to leave the United States as planned because of a medical condition or problem.
- You were temporarily in the United States as a teacher or trainee on a “J” or “Q” visa.
- You were temporarily in the United States as a student on an “F,” “J,” or “M,” visa.

Substantial Presence Test? - Decision Tree

If you are temporarily present in the United States on an F, J, M, or Q visa, use this chart to determine if you are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test (SPT).

Do not count the following as days of presence in the United States for the substantial presence test: Days you are an exempt individual.

Trainees on a Q visa are Out of Scope for the Foreign Student and Scholar program.

Substantial Presence Test? – Decision Chart 1 (Student)

Chart on this page is an alternative (508 Compliant) to the flowchart on the prior page, but the information is the same.

If you are temporarily present in the United States on an F, J or M visa, use this chart to determine if you are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test (SPT).

Step	Probe/Ask the taxpayer- Student - F, J or M Visa	Action
1	Are you a full-time student?	YES- Go to Step 2 NO -Go to Step 7
2	Are you in substantial compliance with your visa?	YES- Go to Step 3 NO- Go to Step 7
3	Were you exempt as a teacher, trainee, or student for any part of more than 5 calendar years?	YES -Go to Step 4 NO- Go to Step 6
4	Do you choose to claim a Closer Connection exception to the Substantial Presence Test? (Out of Scope)	YES- Go to Step 5 NO- Go to Step 7
5	In order to claim the exception, all the following must apply: A. You do not intend to reside permanently in the US B. You must have complied with your Visa. C. You must not have taken steps to become a Resident Alien. D. You must have a closer connection to a foreign country	YES- Go to Step 6 NO- Go to Step 7
6	You are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test and will file Form 1040-NR
7	* You must apply the Substantial Presence Test using the Resident or Nonresident Alien Decision Tree

Do not count the following as days of presence in the United States for the substantial presence test: Days you are an exempt individual.

Substantial Presence Test? – Decision Chart 2 (Teacher or Trainee)

Chart on this page is an alternative (508 Compliant) to the flowchart earlier in this section, but the information is the same.

If you are temporarily present in the United States on Teacher on J or Q Visa, or Trainee on J Visa, use this chart to determine if you are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test (SPT)..

Step	Probe/Ask the taxpayer- Teacher on J or Q Visa, or Trainee on J Visa	Action
1	Are you a full-time student?	YES- Go to Decision Chart 1, starting at Step 1 NO- Go to step 2
2	Are you in substantial compliance with your visa?	YES - Go to Step 3 NO - Go to Step 6
3	Were you exempt as a teacher, trainee, or student for any part of more than 5 calendar years?	YES -Go to Step 4 NO- Go to Step 5
4	Were you exempt as a teacher, trainee, or student for any part of 3 (or fewer) of the 6 preceding years, AND Did a foreign employer pay all your compensation during the tax year in question, AND Were you present in the U.S. as a teacher or trainee in any of the preceding 6 years, AND Did a foreign employer pay all your compensation during each of the preceding 6 years you were present in the U.S. as a teacher or trainee?	YES- Go to Step 5 NO- Go to Step 6
5	You are an exempt individual for the Substantial Presence Test and will file Form 1040-NR
6	* You must apply the Substantial Presence Test using the Resident or Nonresident Alien Decision Tree, later in this section

Do not count the following as days of presence in the United States for the substantial presence test: Days you are an exempt individual.

Trainees on a Q visa are Out of Scope for the Foreign Student and Scholar program.

Resident or Nonresident Alien Decision Tree

Start here to determine your residency status for federal income tax purposes

¹ If this is your first or last year of residency, you may have a dual status for the year. See Dual Status Aliens in Pub 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens. (Out of Scope)

⁶ If after using the Substantial Presence Test? - Decision Tree/Chart and the Resident or Nonresident Alien Decision Tree/Chart earlier in this section and have determined a taxpayer is a Nonresident Alien for U.S. Tax Purposes:

- You will only complete a tax return for a Nonresident Alien if you have certified on the Foreign Student and Scholar tax law, and at least 1 other person at your site is also certified on the Foreign Student and Scholar tax law, who can quality review the return.

- See the Scope of Service, Form 1040-NR, to confirm if the return is In Scope.

- Be sure to have the taxpayer complete Form 13614-NR, Nonresident Alien Intake and Interview Sheet, and use Publication 4011, VITA/TCE Foreign Student and Scholar Volunteer Resource Guide, to conduct the Quality Review.

- As the initial return screen opens or under the Basic Information Section in TaxSlayr Pro, select Nonresident Alien, if you have certified under the Foreign Student and Scholar tax law and the taxpayer's circumstances are within the scope of the Foreign Student and Scholar VITA program. After selecting the Nonresident Alien filing status, you will be given three (3) choices; Single nonresident alien, Married nonresident alien, or Qualifying Surviving Spouse with dependent child.

(This choice is in effect for the taxable year for which you made the election and for all subsequent years of the taxpayers until revoked or suspended). See Nonresident Spouse Treated as a Resident in Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, for more details. (This election is Out of Scope for the Foreign Student and Scholar certification)

*A checkbox is provided on Form 1040 to make this election (checkbox is In Scope, but choosing to make the election and preparing the required statement as described in Publication 519 is the responsibility of the taxpayer and spouse). Advising on making this election is Out of Scope (refer taxpayer to a professional tax preparer for advice). This election also applies to future years unless suspended or ended. A joint return must be filed for the first year in which this election is made, however a joint or separate return may be filed in subsequent years.

Resident or Nonresident Alien Decision Chart

Determine residency status for federal income tax purposes.

Step	Probe/Ask the taxpayer	Action
1	Were you a lawful permanent resident of the United States (had a "green card") at any time during the current tax year?	YES – RESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{1, 2, 7} NO – Go to Step 2
2	Were you physically present in the United States on at least 31 days during the current tax year? ³	YES – Go to Step 3 NO – NONRESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{5, 6, 8}
3	Were you physically present in the United States on at least 183 days during the 3-year period consisting of the current tax year and the preceding 2 years, • counting all days of presence in the current tax year, • 1/3 of the days of presence in the first preceding year, and • 1/6 of the days of presence in the second preceding year?³	YES – Go to Step 4 NO – NONRESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{4, 5, 6, 8}
4	Were you physically present in the United States on at least 183 days during the current tax year? ³	YES – RESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{1, 2, 7} NO – Go to Step 5
5	Can you show that for the current tax year you have a tax home in a foreign country and have a closer connection to that country than to the United States? (Out of Scope, Form 8840, Closer Connection Exception Statement for Aliens required)	YES – NONRESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{5, 6, 8} NO – RESIDENT Alien for U.S. tax purposes ^{1, 2, 7}

² In some circumstances you may still be considered a nonresident alien and eligible for benefits under an income tax treaty between the U.S. and your country. See Effect of Tax Treaties in Publication 519 and check the provision of the treaty carefully. (Out of Scope)

- Name should match that on Passport or Visa.
- Taxpayer's current address where the IRS should mail refund and/or other correspondence.
- This is the student's address back home, typically where the parents live. Needed if refund is to be mailed to foreign address.
- The answers are needed to determine if certain treaties apply. This applies to Schedule OI, Other Information.
- Date first entered as a student/scholar.
- Typically listed on the student/scholar's original entry visa. Ask, as it may no longer be in the passport.
- Current immigration status may have changed since entering the U.S. This may be needed on Schedule OI in Tax Slayer if a treaty benefit is claimed (as well as Form 8843, Statement for Exempt Individuals With a Medical Condition).
- Enter on Form 8843 (If you have changed your visa type of U.S. immigration status, be cautious about applying treaty benefits properly).
- This will indicate whether further questioning is needed to determine proper treaty benefits, as well as residency.
- Keep in mind, a J-type visa can also include certain students, if their primary purpose is for study.

Unique Treaty Provisions

United States-India Income Tax Treaty, Articles 21(2), 22

Under Article 21(2), an Indian student or apprentice may take a standard deduction equal to the amount allowable on Form 1040 and may be able to claim the personal exemptions for a nonworking spouse and U.S. born-children. However, benefits will be limited to certain credits, as the allowable exemption deduction is currently $0.

Treaty benefits for a scholar from India are very different from those for a student. The scholar benefit for income code 19 is lost retroactively if the visit exceeds 2 years under Article 22.

Generally, the standard deduction for Single taxpayers and Married Filing Separately taxpayers in 2025 is $15,000.

Nonresident aliens can't file a joint return. Even though a student from India may be able to take an exemption for a nonworking spouse, this is not considered a joint return. Thus, the standard deduction for married filing separately must be used. In determining their tax liability, they must use the tax tables or tax rate schedules for married filing separately.

United States-People's Republic of China Treaty, Articles 19, 20

Almost all U.S. tax treaties' students and scholars' articles have time limits (see treaty tables for income codes 16, 19 and 20 below) and may not be available for U.S. residents for tax purposes. An exception is the United States-People's Republic of China Treaty.

Article 20 has no time limit restrictions for Chinese students and trainees to claim treaty benefits as long as they are still completing their education or training in the U.S. It allows students to have an exemption of up to $5,000 per year for wage income while they are studying or training. In most cases, the student will become a resident for federal tax purposes in their sixth calendar year. Students from China can continue to claim the treaty benefits on their resident alien tax return (if they still meet the definition of a student).

Article 19 allows a scholar (teacher, professor or researcher) to exempt from tax earned income for a period of 3 years in aggregate. After 2 calendar years, a scholar will become a resident alien for tax purposes (if he or she meets the Substantial Presence Test). They are still entitled to tax benefits under the treaty if the income earned is within the 3-year period.

Note: This treaty is not applicable to Chinese citizens who are residents of Hong Kong, Macao or Taiwan.

United States-Canada Income Tax Treaty, Article 15

The students and scholars are permitted to use Article 15 of the tax treaty, which applies to dependent personal services.

Students and scholars making use of the treaty benefits for dependent and independent personal service income (Income Codes 17 and 18) remain Out of Scope for the VITA/TCE Foreign Student and Scholar Program and must be referred to a professional tax preparer.

The tax treaty with Canada is different from most other tax treaties because it (1) exempts all earned income if the nonresident earned not more than $10,000 in the tax year, but (2) taxes all income if the nonresident earned more than $10,000. This treaty benefit is lost if the nonresident becomes a U.S. resident for tax purposes.

Countries with Treaty Benefits for Scholarship or Fellowship Grants (Income Code 16)

U.S.-Russia Income Tax Treaty has been suspended for Foreign Students and Scholars.

If a nonresident alien receives a grant that is not from U.S. sources, it is not subject to U.S. tax.

Scholarship or fellowship grants that cover tuition and fees (and books and supplies if required of all students) are not subject to U.S. tax and generally will not be included in Form 1042-S. Financial aid that is dependent on the performance of services, such as a teaching assistant, is treated as wages and generally reported on W-2 or on Form 1042-S with income code 18, 19, or 20.

Scholarship or fellowship grants that cover room, board and other personal expenses are subject to U.S. tax unless a treaty benefit (as summarized below) exists.

Capital Gains / Losses

The only capital gains/losses within the scope of the Foreign Student & Scholar VITA program are related to the sale of U.S. stocks, generally considered NOT effectively connected with the taxpayer's U.S. trade or business. All other sales of property remain Out of Scope.

If a nonresident alien is physically present in the U.S. for less than 183 days during the tax year, none of the capital gains from these sales are taxable. The days counted for excludable gains consider all days of presence, regardless of exempt days based on visa status under IRC §7701(b).

If the nonresident is present in the U.S. for 183 days or more, generally the rate of tax on the gain is 30%. This income is reported on Form 1040-NR, U.S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return, Schedule NEC, Tax on Income Not Effectively Connected With a U.S. Trade or Business, NOT on Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses, nor on the income section of Form 1040-NR. Capital losses of nonresident aliens may only offset other capital gains. (Capital losses of nonresident aliens cannot be used against other income, nor can they be carried forward to another tax year.)

Some tax treaties provide an exclusion from tax on various capital gains relating to stock sales. The following countries have a tax treaty with the U.S. If the table below indicates a potential 0% tax, review all paragraphs of the treaty article fully to ensure all conditions are met (reported on Schedule NEC). (Some treaties limit the percentage of stock ownership held or types of assets held by the corporation, etc.)

* Those countries to which the U.S.-U.S.S.R. income tax treaty still applies: Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan.

Nonresident aliens residing in the U.S. for less than 183 days in the tax year, generally are exempt from tax on Capital gains from U.S. stock sales.

U.S. – Russia Income Tax Treaty has been suspended for Foreign Students and Scholars, effective August 16, 2024.

Dividend Income

U.S. – Russia Income Tax Treaty has been suspended for Foreign Students and Scholars, effective August 16, 2024.

Generally, dividend income from investments in U.S. corporate stock is considered FDAP (Fixed, Determinable, Annual or Periodic) income, NOT effectively connected to the taxpayer's U.S. trade or business and is therefore taxable at a 30% rate on Form 1040-NR, Schedule NEC, NOT on the income section on the front of Form 1040-NR.

The U.S. has income tax treaties with a number of foreign countries. These treaties can often reduce or eliminate U.S. income tax on various types of income, such as dividends, if certain conditions are met. Carefully read the tax treaty article and the conditions allowing for reduced rates. Many of these reduced rates only apply to regulated investment companies (RICs) or a real estate investment trusts (REITs). Below is a list of the treaty countries and the treaty article and protocol potentially allowing reduced rates.

Information Only

Dividend income for the nonresident aliens is subject to 30% income tax rate, unless a lower rate is allowed by treaty. These lower treaty rates are Out of Scope for the VITA/TCE Foreign Student and Scholar program.

^w The rate applies to dividends paid by a regulated investment company (RIC) or a real estate investment trust (REIT). However, that rate applies to dividends paid by a REIT only if the beneficial owner of the dividends is an individual holding less than a 10% interest (25% in the case of Portugal, Spain, Thailand, and Tunisia) in the REIT.

^{dd} Amounts paid to certain pension funds that are not derived from the carrying on of a business, directly or indirectly, by the fund are exempt. This includes dividends paid by a REIT only if the conditions in footnote mm are met. For Sweden, to be entitled to the exemption, the pension fund must not sell or make a contract to sell the holding from which the dividend is derived within 2 months of the date the pension fund acquired the holding. The United States has competent authority arrangements (MAP) with some treaty jurisdictions (e.g. Netherlands and Switzerland) that describe which pension funds are eligible for the exemption. See the Competent Authority Arrangements page on irs.gov.

^{ff} The rate applies to dividends paid by a regulated investment company (RIC). Dividends paid by a real estate investment trust (REIT) are subject to a 30% rate.

^{gg} In Sri Lanka, the rate applies to dividends paid by a real estate investment trust (REIT) only if the beneficial owner of the dividends is (a) an individual holding less than a 10% interest in the REIT, (b) a person holding not more than 5% of any class of the REIT's stock and the dividends are paid on stock that is publicly traded, or (c) a person holding not more than a 10% interest in the REIT and the REIT is diversified.

^{mm} The rate applies to dividends paid by a regulated investment company (RIC) or real estate investment trust (REIT). However, that rate applies to dividends paid by a REIT only if the beneficial owner of the dividends is

(a) an individual (or pension fund, in some cases) holding not more than a 10% interest in the REIT, (b) a person holding not more than 5% of any class of the REIT's stock and the dividends are paid on stock that is publicly traded, or (c) a person holding not more than a 10% interest in the REIT and the REIT is diversified.

However, that rate applies to dividends paid by a REIT only if the beneficial owner of the dividends is (a) an individual holding not more than a 25% interest in the REIT, (b) a person holding not more than 5% of any class of the REIT's stock and the dividends are paid on stock that is publicly traded, or (c) a person holding not more than a 10% interest in the REIT and the REIT is diversified, or (d) a Dutch belegginginstelling.

^{rr} The rate applies to dividends paid by a regulated investment company (RIC) or a real estate investment trust (REIT). State Income Tax Refunds

If a taxpayer itemized deductions in a prior year and claimed a deduction for state income taxes, then received a state tax refund, that refund may be taxable income in the year it is received. See Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, for additional information.

Students may have received taxable refunds of state and/or local taxes. Remember that nonresident students, except from India, must itemize their deductions. This can include state and local income taxes paid.

Students from India are allowed a standard deduction. If the standard deduction was used on the previous year's tax return, do not include the amount of any state or local tax refund in taxable income.

Scholarship and Fellowship Grants Exclusion

Sch 1, Line 8r—Scholarship and fellowship grants not reported on Form W-2

Enter the amount of scholarship and fellowship grants not reported on Form W-2, reduced by the total amount exempt by treaty. However, if you were a degree candidate at an eligible educational organization, generally include on Sch 1, Line 8r only the amounts you used for expenses other than tuition, fees, and required, course-related expenses. For example, amounts used for room, board, and travel must be reported on line 8r.

Attach any Form(s) 1042-S you receive from the educational organization to page 1 of the Form 1040-NR. Scholarship and fellowship grants are reported in box 2 of Form 1042-S.

For more information about tax requirements for scholarships and fellowships, see Pub. 519 and chapter 1 of Pub. 970.

Under some treaties, scholarship or fellowship grant income is not exempt from tax if the income is received in exchange for the performance of services, such as teaching, research, or other services. Also, many tax treaties do not permit an exemption from tax on scholarship or fellowship grant income unless the income is from sources outside the United States. If you are a resident of a treaty country, you must know the terms of the tax treaty between the United States and the treaty country to claim treaty benefits on Form 1040-NR. See the instructions for item L of Schedule OI, later, for details.

Example 1. You are a citizen of a country that does not have an income tax treaty in force with the United States. You are a candidate for a degree at ABC University (located in the United States). You are receiving a full scholarship from ABC University. You are not required to perform any services, such as teaching, research, or other services, to get the scholarship, and you have no other sources of income. The total amounts you received from ABC University during 2025 are as follows:

Tuition and fees	$25,000
Books, supplies, and equipment	1,000
Room and board	9,000
	$35,000

The Form 1042-S you received from ABC University for 2025 shows $9,000 in box 2 and $1,260 (14% of $9,000) in box 10.

Note. Box 2 shows only $9,000 because withholding agents (such as ABC University) are not required to report section 117 amounts (tuition, fees, books, supplies, and equipment) on Form 1042-S.

You would enter $9,000 on line 8r of Schedule 1 (Form 1040) only.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 1, except that you are a citizen of a country that has an income tax treaty in force with the United States that includes a provision that exempts scholarship income and you were a resident of that country for income tax purposes immediately before arriving in the United States to attend ABC University. Also, assume that, under the terms of the tax treaty, you are present in the United States only temporarily to finish your degree, and all of your scholarship income is exempt from tax because ABC University is a nonprofit educational organization.

When completing your tax return, do the following.

Provide all the required information in item L of Schedule OI (Form 1040-NR). Enter the $9,000 shown in box 2 of Form 1042-S into column (d) of the schedule.

Enter $9,000 from box L1(e) of Schedule OI (Form 1040-NR) on line 1k of Form 1040-NR.

Enter $1,260 on line 25g of Form 1040-NR to report the withholding shown in box 10 of Form 1042-S.

For this example, you will not enter any amount on line 8r of Schedule 1 (Form 1040) because the entire scholarship income shown in box 2 of Form 1042-S is exempt from tax by the treaty.

How to Claim Treaty Benefits on Form 1040-NR

Nonresident aliens may claim treaty benefits on Form 1040-NR.

If a taxpayer is a resident alien eligible to claim treaty benefits on Form 1040, the return is Out of Scope for the VITA/TCE Foreign Student and Scholar program.

The following shows how to claim treaty benefits listed on Form 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding.

First, enter the necessary information based on the F13614-NR, Nonresident Alien Intake and Interview Sheet entries, and your interview with the taxpayer for the three sections of Schedule OI in TaxSlayer.

This section shows how to enter the Form 1042-S, however, a taxpayer who received a Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, or other income statement may also be eligible to exclude income under their treaty. This section of the software would be used for these taxpayers, as well.

The Schedule OI menu will automatically open after entering Dependents / Qualifying Person selections in the software.

Complete all sections on the Schedule OI Menu; General Information, Dates Entered and Departed the U.S. in Current Year, and Income Exempt from Tax.

For a taxpayer who does not receive Form 1042-S and is entitled to claim treaty benefits first complete the Schedule OI-General Information with the allowable treaty benefit amount listed under Wages Exempt by a treaty.

Next, move to Schedule OI- Income Exempt from Tax and re-enter the amount of exempt income.

Filing Status

Generally, nonresident aliens must use either the Single or the Married Filing Separately (Married Nonresident Alien) filing status. (Only residents of Canada, Mexico, Republic of Korea (S. Korea), and India may qualify for the Qualifying Surviving Spouse, if applicable.) The married nonresident alien status can be used whether their spouse is present in the U.S. or not.

Head of household filing status cannot be used if the taxpayer was a nonresident alien during any part of a year.

Nonresidents who are married to U.S. Citizens or resident aliens can make an election to file a joint return for tax purposes on Form 1040 and file as Married Filing Jointly (Out of Scope). If both married taxpayers are nonresident aliens, they CANNOT file as Married Filing Jointly, they must file as Married Filing Separately.

STATE RETURNS: Check with the state income tax authorities regarding the correct filing status that applies to any state return being prepared.

Exemption Personal/Dependent Issues

The personal and/or dependency exemption deduction for 2025 is $0.

Nonresidents from the following countries may be able to claim their children as dependents. Nonresidents from Canada or Mexico may be able to claim other family members as dependents, if they and their family members meet the requirements. See Publication 4012 for additional criteria.

Everyone claimed on the return must have either a Social Security number (SSN) or a valid Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN).

Canada, Mexico, India, and South Korea

The exemption amount for 2025 is $0. For India and South Korea, refer to Publication 519 for additional information.

Standard or Itemized Deduction

Standard Deduction - Nonresident aliens are generally not eligible for the standard deduction. For those eligible (India Treaty), they must use the amount for the single or married filing separately filing status being used (if legally blind, or over 65, see Publication 501).

Generally, the standard deduction amount for single or married filing separately for 2025 is $15,000.

Itemized Deductions - The 2025 Reconciliation Legislation (H.R. 1), also known as the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), increased the dollar amount of state and local income taxes that are deductible to $40,000 for MFJ returns with MAGI under $500,000. ($250,000 for MFS or Single). Miscellaneous Itemized deductions for employee business expenses, tax preparation fees, etc. have been eliminated. Casualty Losses are now only permitted for Presidentially Declared Disaster areas (and remain Out of Scope).

The amount you can deduct for contributions made to U.S. qualified charitable organizations is generally limited to no more than 60% of your AGI. Your deduction may be further limited to 50%, 30%, or 20% of your AGI, depending on the type of property you give and the type of organization you give it to. Refer to the Instructions for Form 1040-NR for more information. All other allowable itemized deductions on Form 1040-NR remain unchanged.

Wage Calculation Worksheet

Since some employers do not issue the correct reporting documents to international students and scholars, the following formula will help you to accurately compute the amount of wages to be shown on the income tax return.

Wages from Form W-2, box 1 (if any)	_____
Add: Code 19 or 20 income from Form, 1042-S, box 2 (if any)	_____

Tax Credits and Nonresident Aliens

Tax credits are allowed to nonresident aliens only if they receive effectively connected income. Generally, nonresident alien students and scholars will not qualify for tax credits.

Nonresident aliens cannot elect to be treated as resident aliens in order to claim these credits. (See exception for Married Filing Jointly in the Filing Status section of this publication, and certain treaty provisions for students from Barbados and Jamaica, as well as trainees from Jamaica. These exception elections and treaty provisions are both Out of Scope.)

Child Tax Credit — Nonresident aliens may be able to claim the child tax credit if all of the following conditions are met:

- The child is a U.S. citizen, national, or resident alien who resides with the taxpayer, and
- The child is a son, daughter, adopted child, grandchild, stepchild, or foster child, and
- The child was under age 17 at the end of the year, and
- The child qualifies as their dependent.
- The child MUST have a valid Social Security number

Child and Dependent Care Credit — Nonresident aliens may be able to claim the Child and Dependent Care Credit if all of the following conditions are met:

- Pay a qualifying caregiver to care for a dependent under the age of 13, or a disabled dependent (any age), or a disabled spouse, so the taxpayer and spouse (if applicable) can work or look for work.
- Pay for care provided during the hours when a student or scholar was working (or looking for work) rather than attending classes or studying.
- Not claim an expense for the credit in an amount exceeding earned income from the United States.
- Generally, married persons must file a joint return to claim the credit. If your filing status is married filing separately and all of the following apply, you are considered unmarried for purposes of claiming the credit on Form 2441.
 - You lived apart from your spouse during the last 6 months of tax year.
 - Your home was the qualifying person's main home for more than half of the tax year.
 - You paid more than half of the cost of keeping up that home for the tax year.

Credit for Other Dependents — If the taxpayer has a qualifying dependent who does not meet some of the requirements for the Child Tax Credit, they may qualify for the Credit for Other Dependents. The child must reside in the U.S. with the taxpayer and have a valid SSN or ITIN. (See Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax (For Individuals) for details.)

Earned Income Credit — If the taxpayer is a nonresident for any part of the year, the earned income credit is not available.

Education Credits — If the taxpayer is a nonresident alien for any part of the year, they generally can't claim the educational credits, such as the American Opportunity Credit and Lifetime Learning Credit.

Foreign Tax Credit — This credit will usually not be available to nonresident alien students and scholars. Their foreign-source income is usually not reported on their U.S. income tax return.

Advanced Premium Tax Credit — (As with many other credits, married taxpayers filing separately do NOT qualify for the Premium Tax Credit.) If the taxpayer obtained insurance through the Marketplace and received an Advanced Premium Tax Credit (listed on Form 1095-A, Health Insurance Marketplace Statement), this must be reported. The following instructions should be followed to report the credit and, if necessary, repay it:

1. In TaxSlayer's Health Insurance section, answer "Yes" to having received a Form 1095-A, and "Yes" to "Are you required to repay all of the APTC?" This will cause the software to add the repayment required into the tax liability.
2. Complete and attach Form 8962, Premium Tax Credit (PTC), to calculate the repayment amount.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes

Generally, a nonresident alien temporarily admitted in the United States as a student is not permitted to work for a wage or salary or to engage in business while in the United States. However, if a student is granted permission to work, Social Security and Medicare taxes are not withheld from their pay. This exclusion ONLY applies to the student, not their spouse or dependents under accompaniment statuses. Individuals in F-2 or J-2 immigration status are never exempt from FICA (Social Security and Medicare Taxes)

If Social Security or Medicare taxes are withheld from pay that is not subject to these taxes, contact the employer who withheld the taxes in error for a refund. The employer would also be eligible for a refund of their portion of the erroneously withheld taxes.

If that employer does not refund the withheld taxes, file Form 843, Claim for Refund and Request for Abatement, and attach supporting documentation for reimbursement.

See Publication 519, Chapter 8, Paying Tax Through Withholding or Estimated Tax, for a list of items to attach as supporting documentation. Mail Form 843 (with attachments, including Form 8316, Information Regarding Request for Refund of Social Security Tax) to the following address:

Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service Center
Ogden, UT 84201-0038

What Form(s) to File

Form 8843: If any of the following applies: If you are a nonresident alien, excluding days of presence in the United States for purposes of the substantial presence test because you:

- were an exempt individual (temporarily in the United States as a teacher or trainee in "J" or "Q" immigration status; temporarily in the United States as a student in an "F", "J", "M", or "Q" immigration status; or you were a professional athlete competing in a charitable event, or
- were unable to leave the United States as planned because of a medical condition or problem.

Even if the student or scholar had no income, they still must file Form 8843 by the 15th day of the 6th month after your tax year ends (June 15th) and file one for each family member who is in the U.S. also excluding days of presence. (The test for residency must be applied separately for each individual under the above immigration statuses).

If Canadian students are exempt individuals and do not have a visa, use the information from their work authorization papers to complete Form 8843. Form 1040-NR: For all filing of income and/or treaty benefits.

When to File

Taxpayers will have until April 15, 2026 to file their 2025 return.

If you did not receive wages subject to U.S. income tax withholding, or are filing a standalone Form 8843, file your return by the 15th day of the 6th month after the tax year ends (June 15th).

When the regular due date for filing falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, file by the next business day.

Extensions of time to file - If you cannot file your return by the regular due date, file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.

For the 2025 tax year, the due date is April 15, 2026 making any extension due October 15, 2026 (December 16, 2026 if the due date of your return is June 17, 2026).

You must file the extension by the regular due date of your tax return and pay any tax due with the request for extension.

Amended Returns - If you later have changes in your income, deductions, or credits after you file your return, file Form 1040-X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. Also use Form 1040-X if you should have filed Form 1040 instead of Form 1040-NR or vice versa.

If you amend Form 1040-NR or filed a previous Form 1040-X, attach the most recently filed form to the correct Form 1040-X. Print "Amended" across the top of the attached corrected forms or schedules.

If you are claiming a refund, the amended return must be filed within 3 years from the date the return was filed or within 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later.

A tax return filed before the final due date is considered to have been filed on the due date.

Amending the Form 1040-NR using Form 1040-X is handled differently from other amended returns. Please see Form 1040-X instructions for the proper procedures.

Payment Options

Some students and scholars owe money with their tax return. This is usually due to insufficient withholding from wages.

Nonresidents have the same payment options as citizens; they can:

- Pay the entire balance by the due date for the return, by direct pay, card or digital wallet, or an IRS Online Account
- Put the balance on a credit card (fees apply)
- Ask for an extension of time to pay or an installment agreement (fees may apply)

Explain to taxpayers that:

- Interest, and any applicable penalties, will continue to accrue until they pay the full amount due
- They should not send cash through the mail; personal checks, cashiers' checks, and money orders are accepted

Where to File

Forms 8843 and 1040-NR
must be mailed to:
Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service
Austin, TX 73301-0215
USA

For Form 1040-NR,
if enclosing a payment, mail to:
Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service
P.O. Box 1303
Charlotte, NC 28201-1303
USA

For those returns that cannot be efiled, the returns must be mailed. Tax returns cannot be faxed or emailed to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Source Documents

You may see many types of income documents when you are assisting international students and scholars. The following list may help you in identifying the documents you may see.

Form 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding - Many students and scholars will receive this form if they have income and/or a scholarship that is subject to treaty benefits.

Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement - Most students and scholars are allowed to work. If they earn more than the amount exempted by their treaty, the excess should be reported on the W-2. When students and scholars work off campus, they often receive a W-2 for the full amount they earned. That is why it is important to use the Wage Calculation Worksheet in this guide.

Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement - Academic institutions issue Form 1098-T to students who paid tuition during the tax year. This form helps the students calculate the educational credits. Since nonresident aliens usually cannot claim the educational credits, the form is not part of their tax return.

Form 1099-INT, Interest Income - Many banks and savings institutions issue the 1099-INT to nonresident alien and scholars. Since most nonresident student and scholars do not need to report their interest income, the form is not part of their tax return. To avoid receiving a Form 1099-INT, file Form W-8 BEN with the bank or financial institution.

Form 1099-NEC, Nonemployee Compensation - Sometimes a nonresident alien student or scholar will give you a 1099-NEC. There are several complicated issues involved when this happens. These returns are Out of Scope for the VITA/TCE Foreign Student and Scholar program and must be referred to a professional tax preparer.

Forms 1095-A, Health Insurance Marketplace Statement - If the taxpayer has a F1095-A that indicates an Advanced Premium Tax Credit was allowed, the taxpayer will need to complete Form 8962, calculating the proper credit amount and repaying any excess advances, as necessary.

General Summary of U.S. Immigration Terms

Alien — An individual who is not a U.S. citizen or U.S. national. For Income tax purposes, aliens are classified as Residents or Nonresidents.

Bona Fide Resident — An individual who is established in a foreign country or countries for an uninterrupted period which includes an entire year that extends into the current tax year.

Dual Status — Aliens who are both Residents and Nonresidents of the U.S. within the same tax year.

Exempt Individual — Aliens who, because of the terms of their immigration status, are not considered to be “present in the United States” for purposes of the substantial presence test.

Exempt Status — A visa status that provides for a defined period of time in which the days an alien is physically present in the U.S. are not counted for purposes of the substantial presence test.

Expatriation Tax — An additional tax that may apply to U.S. citizens who have renounced their citizenship and long-term residents who have ended their U.S. resident status for federal tax purposes. Different rules apply according to the date upon which you expatriated.

Green Card, (F I-551, U.S. Permanent Resident Card) — An alien registration card issued by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) giving an individual the privilege, according to the immigration laws, of residing permanently in the U.S. as an immigrant.

Taxpayer Identification Number — A unique number used by individuals and other tax entities to file tax forms with the IRS.

Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) — A tax processing number issued by the Internal Revenue Service. It is a nine-digit number that always begins with the number 9. ITINs are for federal tax reporting only, and are not intended to serve any other purpose. IRS issues ITINs to help individuals comply with the U.S. tax laws, and to provide a means to efficiently process and account for tax returns and payments for those not eligible for Social Security Numbers (SSNs). An ITIN does not authorize work in the U.S. or provide eligibility for Social Security benefits or the Earned Income Tax Credit.

ITINs issued will expire if unused on a federal tax return for 3 consecutive years. If expired, you must reapply for a new number, if needed.

Nonresident Alien — An alien who is temporarily residing in the U.S., a resident alien who has abandoned permanent residence in the United States, or an alien who has never been in the U.S. A nonresident alien is an individual who has not passed the lawful permanent residency test (Green Card test) or the substantial presence test for the calendar year.
